THE OHIO CAMPAIGN

The eyes of the world are now riveted on Ohio, watching anxiously the political movements there. The significance of the fight in that State is the more important because of the election being in October, and many claim as Ohio goes so goes the Union in 1884. The Republicans of that State have taken advance ground on the temperance question that has agitated the people of the State and been a large factor in politics for years. Since the issues raised by the war have been settled the liquor question has grown of more and more importance. The country people are strongly in favor of controlling the traffic in liquor, while the large cities, if we may judge by the last October and Spring elections, are in favor of free whisky. The elections last Fall and Spring were fought on the issue raised by what was formerly known as the Pond law, which was, on being passed, pronounced unconstitutional by the Supreme Court of that State. The last Legislature enacted another law known as the Scott law, which was the objectionable features of the Pond law. This statute also went to the Supreme Court and was sustained. Saloon keepers now pay a revenue to the State. On the popularity and working of the Scott law largely depends the election of a Governor. It is growing in favor with the better and higher class of saloon men. While they have to pay taxes and are restricted they are protected. In addition to the Scott law the Legislature provided for submission to the people an amendment to the Constitution permitting license for the sale of liquors, a thing which has not been done in Ohio since 1852. This is a measure that doubtless will pass and give strength to the Republican party; for the reason that saloon men of the higher order are advocates of license. It places their business on a legal basis, which it is not now. They see and feel that a reformation is demanded in their traffic and are convinced that the Republican idea of reformation is the only practical one and will favor it, though like Republican ideas generally, it is in advance of the age—Democratic age. The fact that the low doggeries are not in existence, is because they are watched by the officers of the law and the men who have paid their liquor taxes, men who controlled a large floating element in the cities are closed. These dens of vice being closed will detract from the Democratic strength. To say nothing of the personnel of the candidates for Governor, for reasons above, and the fact that last year the Democratic victory was caused by the stay-at-home Republicans, we have no reason to fear the results in Ohio, and can count on her as being true to her former war and political record, by rolling up a round majority for the Republican State ticket.

The Southern Exposition.

The management of the Southern Exposition is, in view of the expected presence of President Arthur on August 1st, opening day, anxious that exhibitors should make every effort to have displays placed by that day. Nearly all space in the main building has been taken, and another annex, to accommodate those who have already applied, is being built.

A Concave Ball.

The Triennial Concave have decided to give a ball August 16. Tickets, $5. Complimentary tickets will be issued to Knights outside of the jurisdiction of California.

Private advices from Ohio are to the effect that the Republican ticket is gaining strength daily, and the Democratic sinking in favor. The Democracy is turning against Hoadley, and four leading Democratic journals are out in direct opposition to him.

Since 1870 the interest on the National debt has been reduced from $118,784,960 to $51,436,703, or by the amount of $67,348,257. This is more total annual revenue of the Government up to the civil war.

Ed. Boyle has been re-elected Superintendent of the Alta mine.

Eldred's Horse.—Yesterday Eldred's horse was speared for a mile. There were a few spectators and they were enthusiastic over the result. The horse trotted a half in 1:08, and then jogged the other half. He then went around a half in 1:08, and a mile in 2:18. While this horse is showing such excellent time, and is being judiciously exercised by Pete Williams, a very steady driver, there are many good judges who do not believe the gelding can trot consecutive heats rapidly. Some think that Brigadier can beat him, unless straight heats can be taken by the gelding. The animal will, it is understood, be entered in all classes from 2:30 down.—Sac. Bee, 19th.

THE THIRD THIRTEEN.

The Union began with 13 original States under the constitution of 1789 and the inauguration of Gen. Washington as President. These States were strung along the Atlantic coast from New Hampshire to Georgia, Virginia being the largest with 61,305 square miles, and Rhode Island the smallest with only 1,306. The total area of these States was 341,756 square miles, or about one-fifth more than the area of Texas.

The formation of the second thirteen began with the act for the admission of Kentucky, February 4, 1791, but Vermont got in first, being admitted March 4, 1791, two weeks after the passage of her enabling act, while Kentucky did not become an actual State till June 1, 1792. The earliest children of Columbia were followed in their order by Tennessee, Ohio, Louisiana, Indiana, Mississippi, Illinois, Alabama, Maine, Missouri, Arkansas and Michigan, the last name completing the second thirteen in January, 1837.

The initial number of the third thirteen was Florida. Next came Texas, then in their order, Iowa, Wisconsin, California, Minnesota, Oregon, Kansas, West Virginia, Nevada, Nebraska and Colorado, the last being called the Centennial State, its admission having taken place August 1st, 1876. There is still lacking one State to complete the third thirteen, and this is likely to be supplied by Dakota, which will be ready to knock for admission at the door of the coming Congress. The people of the southern portion of the territory have undertaken to form a constitution and perfect all measures for the establishment of a State government. The bill passed by the Legislature at its last session for a constitutional convention was not permitted by the Governor to become a law, but the people have since held a large and harmonious convention, and they propose to do by common consent what they failed to do under a territorial law. The growth of this territory has been marvelous. Twenty years ago there were only a few hundred whites in the southeast corner; in 1870 the population was 14,000, and in 1880 it had swelled to 135,000. Since that time, in addition to the flood of European emigration, people from the States of the East have been moving in by families and large colonies. The population of Southern Dakota alone can hardly be less than 300,000, and by the next census it will probably lay claim to four or five Representatives in Congress. The coming House of Representatives will be Democratic, and that party may have strong objections to the creation of two more Republican United States Senators, but since the admission cannot be postponed beyond another Congress, and the party is in no condition to challenge the permanent hostility of so large and intelligent a population, there is little reason for doubting that "the third thirteen" will be completed a year hence.

Then will begin the formation of a fourth thirteen. Utah and New Mexico have already sufficient population for States, Washington is growing so rapidly that she will probably be able to show a sufficient population in 1890, Texas was authorized by the act of her admission to divide up into five States or less whenever she acquired the requisite number of inhabitants, and Northern Dakota is attracting immigration rapidly to its immense wheat fields. It is not improbable that many who remember the completion of the second thirteen by the admission of Michigan, will live to see that number doubled.

Ten Little Candidates

I. Ten little candidates standing in a line; One wrote a private letter—then there were nine.

II. Nine little candidates, each making up a slate; One spoke about the tariff—then there were eight.

III. Eight little candidates, the Presidential eleven Struck one prematurely—then there were seven.

IV. Seven little candidates setting up sticks; One pulled the wrong wire—then there were six.

V. Six little candidates, good little men all and live; One's war record was looked up—then there were five.

VI. Five little candidates on a scrub race track; One's wheel-horse made a bolt—then there were four.

VII. Four little candidates, active as could be; One's little boom collapsed—then there were three.

VIII. Three little candidates; to an interview One of them submitted—then there were two.

IX. Two little candidates made a red-hot run; One's managers sold out—then there was one.

X. One little candidate standing all alone. A dark horse kicked him—then there was none.

—Life.

We are glad John Kelly is for harmony. We did not think he was for Tilden.

A VIRGINIA FIRE.

Some Twenty or Twenty-five Buildings Destroyed.

The Enterprise, of yesterday morning, publishes the annexed account of the disastrous conflagration at that place Thursday night:

Last night, a few minutes before 12 o'clock, a fire broke out in the rear of the Colombo restaurant, on the west side of South O street, Titus Jepson proprietor, and soon caught in adjoining wooden buildings.

When the cry of fire was raised, flames were already towering above the roofs, and a great volume of smoke was rolling skyward. The steam whistles then sounded the alarm, and the firemen were soon on the ground. As the fire started but a short distance from the Corporation House, the wonder of everybody is that it should have got under such headway without the firemen discovering it.

The flames rapidly extended in all directions, everything being as dry as tinder and the heat from the burning buildings intense. After the firemen got to work there was trouble with the hose, which burst several times. For a time the fire seemed to have things all its own way, in spite of the water thrown upon it, and rapidly ate its way northward among the light wooden buildings.

The Corporation House itself, standing on the west side of B street on a high bank, was there were two or three buildings on fire on the east side of O street. Just then it looked as if the whole central part of town would be swept.

It is impossible at this late hour to get a list of the buildings burned, but a clean sweep was made from Flowerly street north to the brick building mentioned above. McGara's store was destroyed and all the large brick building covered with a fire-proof roof, and to the west, or in the rear, is a vacant lot. Here a desperate fight was made, and the firemen soon began to gain ground, though at one time two or three wooden buildings north of the brick were on fire.

Finally, in going north, the flames reached other stores and shops in the vicinity.

Had there been any wind blowing, half the town must have been destroyed. What breeze there was seemed to come from the northward, away from the fire, yet the fire moved against it to the north.

In the confusion and fright of the people, not much property was saved from the buildings burned. The loss must be quite heavy, but at present it would be useless to make guesses about losses or insurance.

Half a Century Hence.

"If the various countries maintain their present rate of increase," says Mr. Gosselin, Secretary of Embassy at Berlin, "fifty years hence the United States will have a population of 100,000,000, Russia approximately 163,000,000, Germany 83,000,000, the United Kingdom 63,000,000, Austria-Hungary and Italy both 44,000,000, France only 40,000,000. Germany has already in round numbers 7,500,000 more inhabitants than France, but in this reckoning Algeria is not taken into account." For war purposes, however, it is observed that the balance is not so heavily against France, for whereas in Germany there are only 965 males to every 1,000 females, in France there are 991. Germany has, therefore, only 3,500,000 more men than France.

Monarchs of England From The Conquest.

First, William the Norman, then William his son; Henry, Stephen and Henry, then Richard and John. Next Henry the Third; Edwards, one, two and three; And again, after Richard, three Henrys we see; Two Edwards, third Richard, if rightly guessed; Two Henrys, sixth, Edward, Queens Mary and Elizabeth; Then James the Soot; then Charles whom they slew; And then followed Cromwell; another Charles too; Next James called the Second ascended the throne; Then William and Mary together came on; Till, Anne, Georges four and fourth William all past; God sent them Victoria, the present and last.

To meet the new revenue reduction the United States Treasury starts on the fiscal year with $30,000,000 more money than it had a year ago.

THOSE WOMEN FOLK.

How Hard-Headed Men Estimate Some Things Which They Don't Understand.

Anybody who has led a domestic life knows how common such things as the backache, and pains in the chest, are among the women who do the work. Often—and perhaps generally—the distresses are borne without much complaint. The women get about, and the machinery of the house goes on. Beyond this, those coarse-grained animals whom New England women call "the men folks," seldom look so long as their wives or daughters are not actually in bed, under the doctor's care, the average thick-skulled husband and father gives the subject no attention. At the same time the poor household drudges—who deserve a better fate—creep around, broom or utensils in hand, up stairs down stairs and out-of-doors, doing that women's work, which "is never done." Losses of loved wives and fair girls—losses whose suddenness and unexpectedness astonish those wooden-pated husbands and fathers—fall, seemingly out of a clear sky, and form theological sequel to the story of neglect.

Now, you men who stand at the heads of ten thousand such homes, allow us to drop a word in your receptive ears. If these women of yours are worth having, they are worth saving. That back-ache—that pain in the chest! What are they but indications of some organic trouble of the kidneys, the heart, or the lungs? End it at once by the application of BENSON'S CAFFEINE POROUS PLASTER. It will soothe that nervous distress, drive away that pain, banish that dull, weary back-ache, give new strength to the body and fresh hope to the heart. No other plasters will do this. The Benson's Plaster, however, is not made to sell but to heal. It is a remedy which never broke its promise—and never will.

Your druggists has it. But before paying your 25 cents and putting the plaster in your pocket, look for the word CAFFEINE cut in the middle.

Nobody cares a nickel how hot the weather may become, when a temper for the most sultry day is to be obtained within the cool and quiet recesses of Bourgeois' ice cream parlors. Here the palate can be gratified without grief to the pocket book, and melting man moulded again into solid clay, delightfully mixed with cream and ice, and set away to cool in gratitude to his benefactor.

THE NORTHERN INDIAN SCARE

The Latest News—Troop Ordered to Harney.

The Lakeview Examiner, of the 14th, came to hand last evening, and contains the following "war" news:

A courier arrived at Fort Bidwell from Harney Valley on Wednesday last bringing a petition signed by twenty-six citizens of Harney Valley, stating that between one hundred and fifty and two hundred Indians, including women and children, had gathered at Harney. The citizens were much alarmed and many were leaving and immigration was totally suspended. The petition asked for a detachment of troops to protect the citizens of the valley or to take the Indians back to their reservations. The Indians came to Harney at the invitation or by the direction of Lieut. Ayleshire, who had command of the scouting party sent from Bidwell some weeks since to investigate the rumors of an anticipated outbreak of the Indians in Harney Valley, and who supposed the department commander desired their concentration in order that they might be returned to their reservations, should it transpire that there were any hostilities among them. The courier reported new Indians from the Yakima reservation since Lieut. Ayleshire returned to Bidwell. No overt acts have yet been committed by the Indians, but the citizens are unanimous in demanding their removal to the reservation, as their presence is a menace to the peace of the valley. There is every likelihood that an attempt on the part of the troops to remove these Indians from the valley, should they object to such a proceeding, will cause an outbreak of a very serious nature. Movements in the matter will be watched with intense interest by settlers throughout Grant county.

Yesterday morning Troop G, First Cavalry, Capt. Upton commanding, left Fort Bidwell for Harney Valley, to bring in all the Indians found in the valley. There are some fifty men in the command, and as the Indians number from 150 to 200 it will not be strange if they have trouble in bringing them in, should they object to coming. It strikes us that with this force the coming in of the Indians will depend entirely upon their willingness to be brought back. The country around Harney Valley is much cut up, and admirably adapted to the Indian style of fighting, and they could make a very effectual and lengthy resistance.

California State Fair.

The Sacramento Bee publishes the speed programme for the next California State Fair, which begins in Sacramento on Monday, September 10, 1883. The purses offered are exceedingly liberal, aggregating no less than $15,000. On the first day there will be four running races, the last one being over five hurdles, for all of which liberal purses have been offered. There will also be a trotting race on that day for a purse of $1,200. The second day will be devoted to trotting—there being a race for two-year-olds, one for four-year-olds for a purse of $1,000, and one for the 2:40 class for a purse of $1,000. The third day there will be three running races, a selling race, and a trotting race for the 2:20 class for a purse of $1,200. On the following day there will be two trotting races—one for the 2:30 class for a purse of $1,200 and the other for three-year-olds for a purse of $1,000—and a pacing race for the 2:25 class for a purse of $400. On the fifth day there will be running races only. One of these is a free-for-all handicap stake, two miles and a quarter, $50 entrance, $20 declaration, $300 added; $100 to second horse; third to save stake. The other four races on this day are for large purses, which will undoubtedly be competed for by some of the best horses on the coast. On the sixth and last day there will be four trotting races. One of these is for the Occident plate, another is a free-for-all for a purse of $1,200, and the last race is for the three-minute class for a purse of $1,000.

Going to Laconia.

Mrs. H. G. Parker will leave Reno in a few days to join her husband and sons at Laconia, Washington Territory. Mr. Parker has been there for over a year supervising the construction of wharves and docks for the Northern Pacific Railroad. Rollie, the oldest son, works with his father, and Charlie owns a half interest in one of the leading drug stores of that place.

Races at Bidwell.

The citizens of Fort Bidwell have determined to give three day's racing over the Bidwell course on the 16th, 17th and 18th of August. Purses to the amount of $1000 will be hung up, and everything possible to contribute to the success of the races will be done. The full programme will be published soon.

Blooded Stock for Australia.

Yesterday morning two cars containing 134 head of Spanish Merino bucks went west. These fine sheep were purchased in Michigan and New York and are the property of W. J. Markham, and will be taken by steamer from San Francisco to Australia.

Refreshing.

That the weather is extremely hot no one will deny, that a cool, healthful drink is refreshing all admit, and you can find just such nutriment at George Becker's Granite saloon, headquarters for the Pacific Brewery.

LETTER POSTAGE.

A Circular of Instructions to Postmasters.

A circular was issued Wednesday from the office of the Third Assistant Postmaster General notifying Postmasters throughout the United States of the reduction in postage rates to take effect on the 1st of October and directing them to make preparations for it. Postmasters are notified that it is desirable to have as small a stock of the present three-cent postage stamps and stamped envelopes as possible on hand when the reduction goes into effect. They are accordingly instructed to limit their requisitions for stamps and envelopes of this denomination to such quantities as, upon careful estimate, they may deem sufficient to last until the 1st of October. The circular also directs that, as no arrangements have been made for the redemption of three-cent stamps and envelopes in the hands of Postmasters, or for the exchange by Postmasters of these stamps and envelopes in the hands of private holders, until further notice Postmasters will not make exchanges for the public nor return to the department the stock that remains on their hands after October 1st. Postmasters are, however, notified that as the two and three cent stamps and envelopes of the present issue will continue to be valid after that date, they must be accepted in payment of postage when offered in the proper amount, and that three-cent stamps can be used in combination with other denominations on letters requiring more than one rate and on parcels of the third and fourth class.

The circular also announces that the departments will be ready to issue the two-cent stamps of the new design on the 15th of September, but that these stamps and envelopes must not be placed on sale or used by Postmasters before October 1st. No three-cent stamps will be issued after September 14th, unless the requisition therefore is accompanied by the statement that they are needed for immediate use and that the full supply asked for will become exhausted by October 1st. No three-cent stamped envelopes will be issued after the 31st of August, unless the requisition for them is accompanied by a similar statement. The circular further instructs Postmasters as to the design of the new two-cent and four-cent stamps and stamped envelopes; notifies them that the prices of envelopes, exclusive of postage, shall remain the same as at present; that no change will be made in postage due stamps and that rates on drop-letters will remain the same as at present.

Mr. Kaneen's Compensation.

The Virginia Chronicle says that under an Act passed by the last Legislature, and approved March 1, 1883, Mr. Kaneen, the newly-appointed County Commissioner can draw only $75 per month as compensation for his official services—just one-half the amount received by his two colleagues, Messrs. Canavan and Werrin. The language of the law is very explicit, and does not seem to leave any loop-hole for evasion, should any effort in that direction be made, which is not likely. The sections bearing upon this point read as follows:

Section 2. No County Commissioner hereafter elected, or appointed, shall receive as compensation for his services as such County Commissioner an amount to exceed nine hundred dollars ($900) per annum.

Section 3. This act shall not be so construed as to limit the number or effect the compensation of County Commissioners now holding office by virtue of election or appointment.

Change of Base.

The building on the corner of Virginia and Second streets, recently vacated by Geo. E. Perkins, has been leased by A. J. Clark, who, it is understood, will fit it up and move his store there from the north side of the track. It is a fine, large room and is centrally located. It seems to be an unlucky corner, however, as no firm has ever been able to remain there any great length of time, but Clark's management will stand off any hoodoo there may be about the premises.

Mining Patents.

During the month of June patents were issued for mining claims in Nevada as follows: Ford S. Van Zandt, Lloyd, Brooklyn, Cooper and Galatea lodes; M. San Pedro, et al., San Francisco lode; C. L. Brody, Kemp and Keen Consolidated lodes.

Dr. Pierce's "Pilllets," or sugar coated granules—the original "little liver pills," (beware of imitations)—cure sick and bilious headache, cleanse the stomach and bowels, and purify the blood. To get genuine, see Dr. Pierce's signature and portrait on Government stamp. 25 cents per vial, by druggists.

The most healthy and popular drink of the season is the ice cold soda water, sparkling with purest gas and flavored with true, delicious fruit syrups, to be had only at Queen's soda fountain.

BISHOP MANOGUE IN THE MOUNTAINS.

And Something About Our Mt. St. Mary's Academy.

"K. B." writes the San Francisco Monitor, from Reno, under date of the 9th, as follows: "What has become of your casual correspondent 'M. A.'? I looked through your columns last week expecting to see 'Hall to the Chief,' as a notice that our dear and honored Rt. Rev. Bishop Manogue was again in our midst. I was joyfully surprised at seeing him step from the car on Friday, the 6th inst. With all his anxieties and arduous duties he is looking remarkably well, and when he extended his hand to me in answer to my greeting, it was done in such a cordial fatherly way, that one could see that his genial and gentle manner had lost none of its sweetness by contact with crosses (peculiar). His engagements hurried him south so that his stay in Reno was necessarily brief, which was a source of regret to his many admirers in this section. He was accompanied by Rev. Father Dalton, of Grass Valley. In Carson City they were the guests for a short time of Rev. Father Torney, Pastor of St. Teresa's Church, who, by the way, knows how to entertain handsomely. What has become of our late loved Pastor, the noble hearted Father Nugent? Tell him if he will return to our mission he will be as welcome as the flowers in May, and the people of Reno will redouble their efforts to spare him trouble and exposure. In speaking of Bishop Manogue's presence in Reno, I cannot close without some mention of the institution so dear to his paternal heart—Mount St. Mary's Academy of this town. This institution has been prosperous this year, the pupils numbering about one hundred and thirty including sixty boarders. The closing exercises and examination of this truly excellent institution took place on the 24th of June. The pupils were examined in their various studies by Rev. Father Torney, of Carson City, and Father Kirley, of Reno, who pronounced the result as highly creditable to the pupils and their preceptors. We noticed a very pretty departure from the old time certificates to under graduates. This class consisted of four young ladies, all of Winnemucca, who received beautiful silver monograms with pin attachment on which was neatly engraved the name of the Academy and the date. Rev. Father Kirley conferred the honors with touching and appropriate remarks of other and higher honors that await the recipients one year hence. The evening exercises were more than usually brilliant. The young lady graduates, Miss Deane Monchamp, of Fort Bidwell, Cal., and Miss Genevieve Hutchinson, of Arizona, received their graduating honors. Influence formed the subject of Miss Monchamp's essay, and Miss Hutchinson read the valedictory, which was most trite. I will not enter into details, sufficient to say that according to the verdict of the large and appreciative audience which was assembled every part was in order and well executed. In speaking to the Mother Superior on the subject of dramatic plays, she informed your correspondent that from her experience there is much valuable time occupied in these rehearsals, time which ought to be occupied in solid studies. She also remarked that whatever the custom of the coast was in this particular she would in future curtail such displays at the commencement exercises of Mt. St. Mary's."

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. Feb. 21-3w-f-lyr.
